CEDARBROOK COUNTRY CLUB HISTORY

The origins of Cedarbrook Country Club begin at the Mt. Airy Golf Club, an 18-hole course that made its debut in the late 1890s to early 1900s as the sport of golf began to gain popularity in the Philadelphia area. In 1908, the Mt. Airy Golf Club was forced to disband as its leased land became more valuable for building operations, and a large portion of the Mt. Airy membership left the Club. Nine holes of the original course remained intact and in 1909, the remaining members of Mt. Airy leased the smaller nine-hole property, formed the Stenton Country Club, and continued to play golf at this location. In 1915, nine charter members of the Stenton Country Club applied for and received a corporate charter which created the legal entity known as Stenton Country Club. The charter and the names of the nine original members are currently displayed over the fireplace in the Club's Grille Room.

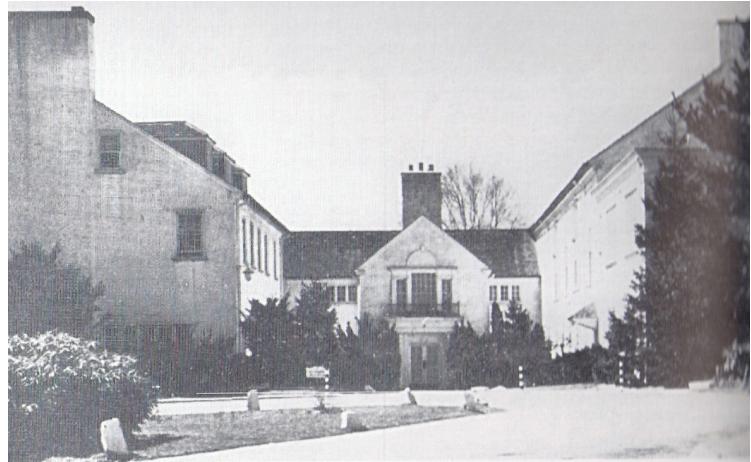

Eventually, the lease was not renewed to the Stenton Country Club members for the same reasons as with Mt. Airy Golf Club, and in 1920, Stenton Country Club purchased property in Cheltenham Township with the intent to build a new 18-hole facility. The new course was designed by famed architect A.W. Tillinghast and the course and clubhouse formally opened on July 4, 1921. Joe Seka Jr., the former golf professional at Stenton Country Club, became the first PGA Head Golf Professional at the newly formed Cedarbrook Country Club.

The Club's fortunes followed economic trends and with the help of the members, survived the precarious, prosperous 20s, the Great Depression of the 30s, and the wartime 40s. The Club played host to many local professional and amateur events through this period, highlighted by a match play competition between famed American golfing hero Gene Sarazen and reigning British Open Champion Arthur Havers in 1924; the 1925 Philadelphia Open won by Johnny Farrell; and the 1947 Philadelphia Inquirer Invitational, which saw South African Professional Bobby Locke outdue the legendary Ben Hogan during the 72-hole stroke play event. Even as the rich history of golf was being created at Cedarbrook, the property was considered so valuable that numerous attempts were made to purchase the property — by Temple University for the development of undergraduate schools and by developers to create a new baseball stadium for the Philadelphia Phillies.

CEDARBROOK COUNTRY CLUB HISTORY

The 50s saw the city of Philadelphia begin its outward spread and a portion of Cedarbrook Country Club was taken by condemnation by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for use in the construction of the route 309 expressway. At first, consideration was given by the membership to rehabilitate the Clubhouse and redesign the remaining golf course.

However, in 1958, a resolution to sell was adopted and in 1962, Cedarbrook Country Club moved to a 210 acre tract of land in Whitpain and Gwynedd Townships. The new 18-hole facility was designed by Massachusetts' golf course architect William F. Mitchell in consultation with William F. Gordon of Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

Cedarbrook's 13th green, today

The Cedarbrook Country Club golf course of today remains relatively unchanged from the original design, although it has been enhanced by several course renovations by the membership. The tradition of supporting the Golf Association of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Section of the PGA by hosting many of their major golf events remains unchanged, and the strong leadership and untiring efforts of the membership continue to preserve Cedarbrook's place in the history of Philadelphia golf.

GOLF AT CEDARBROOK COUNTRY CLUB

The golf course at Cedarbrook Country Club sits on approximately 225 acres of gently rolling landscape in Blue Bell, the heart of Montgomery County, and is free from the intrusion of dissecting roadways and housing developments. Members and guests liken the experience of playing the William Mitchell design to “taking a walk in a secluded park.” Surrounded by a distinctively suburban setting, the club is easily accessible to center city Philadelphia.

The par 72 golf course is characterized by an incredible array of mature tree specimens, several large ponds and the Wissahickon Creek meandering through seven holes. The design is spacious with large, softly undulating greens that make up over four acres in total area. The Greens Superintendent and his staff take pride in presenting and maintaining high quality playing conditions daily. The course is a favorite among local golfers who enjoy the challenging design but are not overwhelmed by too severe a layout. Four permanent sets of tees combined with three “blended” tee courses provide many options to play from 5,600 yards to 7,100 yards. Two 18-Hole PGA approved and USGA rated “family courses” measuring approximately 3,000 yards and 4000 yards are available for beginning players or juniors honing their golfing skills.

The practice facilities at Cedarbrook Country Club include a 300+ yard driving range with tee areas at both ends, three short game practice greens complete with bunkering, and a large practice putting green.

HOLE DESCRIPTIONS

Our 18-hole golf course features nine different sets of tees for men, women, and juniors including two shortened “Family Tees,” all sloped and rated by the United States Golf Association.

Hole #1

A mid-length yard par-4 with a mild dogleg right. The dogleg is bunkered on each side of the fairway and the green is well-guarded with more sand in front and to the left. The very large green contains mild sloping with a substantial elevation drop off to the back right.

Hole #2

A challenging par-5 with the meandering Wissahickon Creek bordering the left side and wrapping around behind the hole. Bunkers line the fairway and protect the front and left side of the green. The putting surface is two-tiered with a two-foot elevation change from back to front. The visual backdrop to the hole is a mature forest of varied hardwoods.

Hole #3

A difficult uphill par-4 which begins with a tee shot over water. Both sides of the hole are wooded with mature pines and there are fairway as well as greenside bunkers. The green slopes severely from left to right making it a very challenging hole from start to finish.

Hole #4

Our signature downhill par-4 with a plateau green very well-protected by a large lake. A well-placed tee shot is a must on this beautiful hole which is pictured on our scorecard. A small sloping green makes “4” a good score here.

Hole #5

A testy uphill par-3. This beautiful hole is surrounded with mature woods and is bordered on the right by a marked elevation drop. There are bunkers on both sides of the green as well as midway to the hole.

Hole #6

A dogleg right par-5 which begins with an elevated tee shot. There are multiple fairway bunkers and the green is protected by more sand and the creek to the back. The hole narrows as one approaches the green with mature pines to greet your approach shot.

Hole #7

A par-4 dogleg left with a creek immediately in front of the tee. This hole is well bunkered on both sides of the dogleg and to the left side of the green, allowing for tricky left side pin placements. This large slightly elevated green has a fall off on both sides as well as to the back. Mature trees backdrop this green and penalize golfers who are overly aggressive with their approach shots.

Hole #8

One of the most difficult par-4 holes on the golf course. Mature woods border the right side of the fairway on this difficult hole. The green is well-protected by sand and features subtle sloping which results in hazardous putting conditions.

Hole #9

A pretty par-3 that plays deceptively uphill and usually into the prevailing wind, making club selection to this sloping green very challenging. Golfers are urged to keep their ball below the hole here as downhill putts many times turn into three-putts! The clubhouse is the backdrop, reminding golfers that the first nine is close to completion.

HOLE DESCRIPTIONS

Cedarbrook has a full service Halfway House refreshment area, complete with indoor and outdoor seating and men's and women's restrooms.

Hole #10

A short but devilish par-5 that demands an accurate tee shot. A severe drop off on the left towards the creek makes any shot visiting the area usually result in a big score! A two-tiered sloping putting surface puts some teeth into a seemingly short par-5. A true “risk/reward” hole for the big hitter.

on either side with sand, and while the putting surface appears relatively flat, don't underestimate it. Good luck!

Hole #11

A straightaway par-4 bordered by mature woods along the right side and a visually intimidating creek along the entire left side of the hole. Another typically Cedarbrook sloping green is well-protected with sand and a tree overhanging on the right. Don't let the short distance fool you. This is a challenging hole.

Hole #12

A challenging par-5 dogleg to the right. Two creeks must be negotiated to complete this hole. The second creek circles to the left of this severely sloped green, giving it an island-like character. Large trees to the right of the putting surface deflect many shots from their intended target.

Hole #13

A picturesque par-3 that can play at over 200 yards. Two parallel creeks in the front of the green and a pond to the right provide the golfer with a great challenge. Mature sycamore trees frame the hole, and the large elevation change from the back of the tee to the green provides a breathtaking view.

Hole #14

This #1 rated handicap hole is plenty of par-4 for anyone! A downhill tee shot must finish short of the creek located 240 yards away, leaving the golfer with a long uphill approach. The large green is well-protected

Hole #15

After hole #14, don't let up yet! This hole is uphill, across a creek and well-bunkered with fairway and greenside sand. A successful approach shot must be accurately played to the right side of this green, allowing the ball to negotiate a severe right to the left slope. Take “4” and run to the next tee!

Hole #16

A short but difficult uphill par-3 with a severe drop off to the left. Mature woods behind the green provide another beautiful view. Possibly the most challenging green on the golf course. Keep it below the hole!

Hole #17

A par-4 with out of bounds left making another accurate tee shot a must. The right is well-bunkered and tree lined and the green is deceptively sloped left to right. Overly aggressive approach shots may find the pond to the right.

Hole #18

A gorgeous finishing dogleg left par-4. Your final tee shot of the day must land safely between two fairway bunkers and the approach is to one of the largest putting surfaces on the course. Enjoy sinking that final putt and make your way to the clubhouse for a well-deserved beverage of your choice!

DINING AT CEDARBROOK COUNTRY CLUB

Dining at Cedarbrook Country Club features an array of dining experiences, from a comfortable family setting to quiet and intimate dining. Our four main dining areas offer distinct and varied atmospheres for the enjoyment of our members and their guests.

Our recently renovated Grille Room provides a beautiful view across the 1st and 10th tees and the practice putting green. This room offers informal and social dining enjoyed by golfers coming right off the course, members looking to mingle at the bar with friends, or families looking for comfortable dining. The Patio located right off the Grille Room is a popular place for outdoor dining in spring, summer, and fall, with easy access to a firepit shared by many for a leisurely “after dinner” drink.

The Cedarbrook Room, while still offering a relaxed dining experience, offers more privacy. The Cedarbrook Room seats up to 30 for à la carte dining and is a perfect venue for members entertaining small groups for breakfast, lunch, or dinner.

For those looking to host small to medium sized private parties, the Members' Front Dining Room provides a more formal ambiance. There is a sunken bar dedicated solely for service in the Members' Front Dining Room, a fireplace providing warmth, and a player piano to entertain with soft tunes for the evening. A terrace off the Members' Front Dining Room has a delightful view of the 18th green and can be utilized by larger groups for outdoor but protected dining and occasional à la carte lunch and dinner service.

The Club's Grand Ballroom is ideal for larger functions. Weddings, anniversary parties, and special functions, member or member-sponsored, can enjoy a beautiful view of the golf course from the Grand Ballroom which can accommodate up to 180 people with a dance floor and up to 220 people without. The Grand Ballroom is the setting for our much-celebrated Grand Sunday and Holiday Brunches that take place throughout the season.

In addition to our clubhouse dining settings, the Club's Poolside Bar and Snack Bar is a very popular place for families to enjoy quick and easy meals during the summer. While the Pool Snack Bar offers very casual selections, members may always order from the Grille Room menu and have their selections delivered to the pool for their enjoyment.

On the golf course, the Club's Halfway House provides the perfect break between “nines” for a variety of food and beverage refreshment.
